

PleezMee Marketing co-founder – job description

You are the super (wo)man of digital marketing? You've got entrepreneurial mindset and want to play a key role into an exciting project? You want to build the future of a solution with global potential?

Then PleezMee is made for you – and vice versa!

PleezMee is an App that helps users remember the things they love, know how to please their loved ones and act on time to achieve their Pleez projects.

PleezMee helps corporates find out what their customers love, develop inspirational communication and generate leads based on what customers love.

PleezMee will operate through a Mobile App and a WEB platform to be developed and launched in Q2/Q3 2017.

As Digital marketing specialist, you know loads about the latest digital and social media technology and channels, and you can prove it. You know how to best leverage for marketing programs as part of an overall business strategy.

SEO, mobile marketing, Email marketing, copywriting, ASO, media planning, Analytics and growth hacking are everyday life to you.

As co-founder, you will join the two founders and bring your expertise to complement the existing skills in the team to help PleezMee become a new leader in its market.

Oh, and last but not least, you're fun !!! Let's face it, if we're gonna work tons of hours together, you better be ;)

Fell like this is your next challenge ? Please send your details to vanessa.davin@pleezmee.com